The Liechtenstein Institute on Self-Determination's Program on Religion, Diplomacy, and International Relations (PORDIR), is now accepting applications for 2019-20 PORDIR Fellows. Currently enrolled Princeton Graduate and Undergraduate students are encouraged to apply. The theme for PORDIR XIII is Religion, Policy and the Global Environmental Crisis. The 2019-20 PORDIR workshop will focus on the interplay among religious beliefs, critical organizations and actors, environmental policy and interstate politics.

PORDIR Fellows are chosen from a variety of academic backgrounds, programs and departments. Ideal candidates will have particular interest and experience in the area of religion, environmental policy and international relations.

Obligatory meetings are held bi-weekly over lunch throughout the academic year. Each meeting features distinguished scholars, diplomatic practitioners, and religious leaders who share their expertise and lead discussion. In the spring semester, PORDIR Fellows will pursue independent, intellectually rigorous research on a subject of their choice resulting in a 4,000-word paper and presentation to the PORDIR cohort. Selected fellows will receive funding to present at the International PORDIR Colloquium in June 2020. Past PORDIR colloquiums have been held in Vienna, Lisbon, Prague, Rome and Jerusalem.

For inquiries about the program and to submit your application, please contact Rana Ibrahim at ribrahim@princeton.edu.

Applications are due Wed, Sept 23, 2019 by 5:00pm.

Applicants will be notified of a decision no later than Fri, Sept 27.

The first meeting will be held on Wed, Oct 2 from 12:00-1:20 in Bendheim Hall, Room 19 (LISD Map Room).
